

Fundraiser with a City of Saline Twist

I'm Bob Kelley and am responsible for these sketches of Saline, Michigan landmark buildings. I've been a resident of Saline for 40 years, during which both my children attended and graduated from Saline schools. Now both of my grandchildren are in Saline schools. I retired eight years ago from IBM Watson and, although doing some pen and ink drawing and with no training, I have never committed myself to a project like this.

I have always been impressed with the quality and quantity of historic homes and churches in the town and the surrounding area. I had also experimented with the "stippling" technique of adding shading and texture to ink drawings.

I considered selling multiple prints of each sketch but decided that I wasn't interested. After all, this is simply an enjoyable hobby and was never about the money.

I have, therefore, decided to sell the matted and framed originals of the sketches at a reasonable price and to donate all proceeds to Saline Social Service. My wife and I volunteer one morning a week at the Food Pantry and have observed the valuable services provided by staff and the many volunteers.
